Statement FOR

SJR 22, Part 1 is one of the building blocks for a business-like program of school construction financing:

Another of the three companion SPACE measures, (see pages 10 and 22 for the other parts of this plan), SJR 22 PART 1 creates the Common School Construction Fund. This Fund will provide a continuing source of income for future school construction. The money made available over the years will be distributed around the state to local school districts for needed building projects, helping to ease the tax burden of local property owners.

Creates a fund for future school construction:

This new Fund will be created with the interest from funds which have been flowing from the Washington State School lands since the framing of the Constitution in 1889. This income, invested in the Permanent School Fund now stands at more than $100 million. The interest from this fund will establish the Common School Construction Fund, making over $5 million each biennium available to retire future school construction bond issues (like REF. 14). Other incomes from the School Lands will be made available every biennium for direct contributions to local school district building programs. These include such income as money from crop and timber sales, and rentals.

Build the schools we must have and No New Taxes!

All these moneys are made available without reducing the reserves of the Permanent School Fund—which will continue to grow. And, the Common School Construction Fund can be established without raising any new taxes! Vote FOR SJR 22, PART 1 . . . support SPACE for children.

Explanatory comment issued by the Attorney General as required by law

The Law as it now exists:

Under the state constitution as adopted in 1889 there exists a fund known as the common school fund. The primary sources of this fund include money obtained (1) from the sale of lands and other property granted by the federal government to the state for the support of its common schools, and (2) from the sale of timber, stone, minerals or other property from those school or state lands which have not been granted to the state for some specific purpose.

The present constitutional provision declares that the principal of the fund shall remain permanent and irreducible. It permits interest accruing to the fund, as well as rental or other revenues derived from lands or other property devoted to the fund, to be used for current support of the common schools. However, neither the principal of this fund nor any of its income can presently be used to construct school buildings or other school facilities.

Effect of Senate Joint Resolution No. 22—Part 1—if approved into Law:

If this constitutional amendment is approved, the principal of the common school fund as the same existed on June 30, 1965, will remain permanent and irreducible. The fund will continue to receive money from all of its former sources except certain of them which will become sources of a new fund. This new fund will be known as the common school construction fund and will be available to be used for financing the construction of common school facilities. The sources of this new fund will be (1) the interest accruing on the permanent common school fund from and after July 1, 1967; (2) all rentals and other revenues obtained from and after July 1, 1967, from lands and other property presently devoted to the permanent common school fund; (3) certain proceeds from the sale or appropriation of timber and other crops from school and state lands subsequent to June 30, 1965; and (4) such other sources as the legislature may direct.

The proposed amendment further provides that the first of these four sources, the interest accruing on the permanent common school fund after July 1, 1967, may be used only to pay off such bond issues as may be authorized by the legislature for construction of common schools. The remainder of the new common school construction fund may be used for direct financing of common schools.

Lastly, the amendment provides that in the event there should be moneys in the common school construction fund in excess of amounts needed to fulfill its purpose, they shall be available for deposit in the permanent common school fund or for current use of the common schools as the legislature may direct.
